

The map displays a complex land use pattern with various colored zones. Three specific planning zones are highlighted with large black text: M8 (dark purple), M9 (dark red), and M10 (dark brown). These zones are interconnected by a network of roads, including a prominent black line with circular nodes running vertically through M8 and M9. Other roads are shown in red and yellow. The map also features green areas representing parks or undeveloped land, and blue areas representing water bodies. A small blue area in the top right corner is labeled 'Jez. SKANDA'. The map is overlaid with a grid of yellow circles, likely indicating specific points of interest or data collection sites.
